

Notification email – Publication of non-material reporting date change for Transpower
Information disclosure determination – 2 November 2017

Good morning

Today we have published a non-material change to the information disclosure (ID) requirements applicable to Transpower New Zealand Limited (Transpower).

This non-material change aligns Transpower's reporting date for Schedule G5 - Quality of Supply: Interconnection Assets to the same reporting date as required for Schedule F6 – Regulated Revenue. Transpower requested that we make this change to remove an ongoing need for annual exemptions as part of our consultation on proposed technical updates to ID requirements for airport services, electricity distribution businesses, gas distribution businesses and gas transmission businesses in July 2017.

The amendments determination can be accessed at:

<http://www.comcom.govt.nz/amendments-to-information-disclosure-requirements-2017/> and <http://www.comcom.govt.nz/regulated-industries/electricity/electricity-transmission/transpower-information-disclosure/>.

We plan to publish our final technical updates to ID requirements for airport services, electricity distribution businesses, gas distribution businesses and gas transmission businesses by the end of December 2017.

Kind regards

Keston Ruxton
