

From: Winston Moreton <winstonmoreton@gmail.com>
Sent: Wednesday, 5 June 2019 5:09 PM
To: regulation.branch <regulation.branch@comcom.govt.nz>
Subject: Eastland Lines

Hi Karen Smith

I am nervous that the network industry have read the way the wind is blowing and accept their profiteering will now be curtailed by you guys pro tem. In place they will game the system to keep costs high by using the price regime hiatus to invest heavily in so called refurbishment or deferred maintenance. They should not imo be permitted to increase line charges for deferred maintenance or refurbishment because any increased charges will not come down.

Thanks for the oppo to comment

Winston Moreton