

Notification email – Update on the timing for commencing our review of the Transpower Capex IM
– 9 March 2017

Good morning

In the Introduction and Process paper released as part of the Input Methodologies final decision in December, we noted that we would give an update on the timing for commencing our review of the Transpower Capex IM in Q2 2017.

We have begun preliminary work to identify some potential focus areas for the Capex IM review. We intend to publish a consultation paper in April 2017 seeking feedback on these potential focus areas and our proposed timing for the review.

Prior to this, we expect to publish a notice of intention to formally signal the start of the Capex IM review.

Kind regards,

Keston Ruxton
