Dear Keston

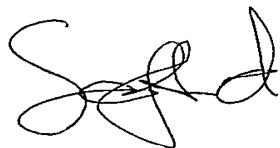

Input Methodologies Review Draft Decision

The Commission, on 22 June 2016, published its draft decisions arising out of the Input Methodologies review it has been progressing since February 2015.

In response to these draft decisions, Air New Zealand has been working closely with BARNZ on a formal submission. That submission from BARNZ has now been lodged with the Commission. Air New Zealand is comfortable that the BARNZ submission appropriately reflects our views and highlights the major areas for consideration by the Commission.

We look forward to further participating in the submission and cross-submission phase of the Input Methodologies Review.

Yours sincerely
