

Mobile Market Study: notification of change of publication date of Preliminary Findings Paper

18 March 2019

Good morning

We write to tell you that the publication date for the mobile market study's preliminary findings paper has been moved from 30 April to mid-May 2019. We apologise if this change causes you any inconvenience.

The due dates for submissions and cross submissions will move accordingly. We do not anticipate this affecting the publication date of the study's final findings paper which is scheduled for publication on 30 September 2019.

For completeness, our updated timeline is:

Mid-May	Preliminary Findings Paper
End of June	Submissions
Mid-July	Cross Submissions
30 September	Mobile Market Study Findings Paper published

You can find more information about the project and our updated timeline on our website at: <https://comcom.govt.nz/regulated-industries/telecommunications/projects/mobile-market-study>
